Bright Gems

Vol. I No. 5 Saturday April 28, 1956 Bryn Gweled 60 copies

PROGRESS REPORT

The floor of the Powers house has been poured. Some of the glass and pipes of the Sperling house are in.

Most of the studs of the Grauer's house are in and the toilet and bathtub are in.

The Holts have their lot cleared.

Some of the grass seed that was sown at the playing field last week has started to sprout.

SAFETY WEEK

The editor of Bright Gems asks everyone to be careful on the road and in everything you do.

Although it is Safety Week, David Polster's tricycle was run over and completely demolished (See ad. on this page)

A number of boys and girls from Bryn Gweled went to see a Police rodeo to-day.

A LITTLE BIRD TOLD ME

The Lotts got home last Sunday from Cosha bamba, Bolivia. They left on Friday the 20th. They came and went by air. They were in Cotoca, Bolivia for a year working with the I.L.O. (International Labor Office), a division of the United Nations, relocating the Indians, (these Indians are descendants of the Incas) from the mountains where it is hard to grow food, to the plains where it is easy to grow food. There were two seasons. The dry season was very hot. It was possible to use a jeep for transportation. But in the rainy season people must either walk or use a horse. Eula Holt's and Ruth Hodgkin's mothers are visiting them this weekend.

William Morris came back from Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio, Thurs. Night. He came by airplane.
